Three new shops

Bakery, record shop, 'Daisy Dog' at Bernadelli

Three new business enterprises have opened recently in Carmel Valley's Bernadelli Square. They are a record shop, a bakery and dog grooming establishment.

"Breads and buns and festive breads...breads that do not contain preservatives, made with unbleached flour which has germ flour added to restore the natural nutritional balance", is the way bakers Herbert McWillis and Mashuri Newell describe their products.

Born in Cleveland, McWillis has worked in bakeries in Tucson, Arizona and Napa, Cal., He came to the Valley because he has friends here and he says he believes that Carmel Valley will be benefited "by having the pleasure of bread-eating restored to it's residents." His hobbies are pottery making, playing the harp and singing. He is a member of the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society.

Newell is a native of Berkeley. He has lived in Australia and Alaska and served with the U.S. Air Force. He and his wife, Salamah, moved to the Valley "because it is such a lovely part of California."

Dinny Smith is the operator of "Daisy Dog" a beauty parlor for canines. Her carpenter husband, Jay, remodeled her light and airy establishment which has windows that allow spectators to watch her shampooing and clipping her charges. She says she likes an audience.

Dinny trained for her job in England at Ryslip Kennels in Berkshire and worked for a time in a London pet shop. When she returned to this country (bringing with her a wire fox terrier named Tiffany) she found work in pet shops in Hollywood and Brentwood. Coming north again (she is a native of Berkeley), she went to work at Grey Oaks Kennels in Monterey and later for Dr. V. J. Marasco at the Carmel Vetinerary Hospital. She says her job there was better than four years of college.

Dinny has no trouble coaxing dogs to behave well while she works on them. Most of them enjoy it and are proud of their good looks. In fact, she says poodles are so intelligent and understanding that "its scary." She is an expert on poodle "patterns" and will follow and old favorite or suggest new ones (there are umpteen varieties of "Watusi" cuts alone for instance).

A record shop with the very apt name of "The Broken Silence" has opened upstairs at the Square with Alex Bogatirev proprietor.

Alex has a large stock of records, tapes and tape decks and promises to order "anything the customer wants" in two days' time. Most in demand is the Beattles' new record which he is featuring at a special price through the holidays.

Alex was born in Munich of Russian parents. He is a graduate of Pacific Grove High School and is now a student at MPC. He hopes to attend U. of C. at Santa Cruz next fall, by which time he expects to be rich enough to hire someone to keep shop for him.

Phone rates lowered to Vietnam

Pacific Telephone has announced that a lower calling rate to Vietnam went into effect Dec. 1. The station rate for the first three minutes is $9, each additional minute is $3. Person-to-person rates are $12 for the first three minutes and each additional minute has been lowered from $4 to $3. It is important for the caller to have the serviceman's unit and his APO number.

William Norton announces sale of CV Outlook to George Dobry

Sale of The Carmel Valley Outlook to George M. Dobry, a California publisher for the past 15 years, was announced today by William J. and Laura S. Norton, publishers the past four and a half years.

The new publisher, who will take over next Monday, said he plans no changes in The Outlook and will continue with the same staff.

He and his wife plan to locate in Carmel Valley. Coming to California from Nebraska in 1954, Dobry first published a weekly in Holtville and then a daily in Taft.

Between publishing these papers, he spent two years with the U.S. Information Agency at Manila in the Philippine Islands, as editor of "Free World" magazine," which is published by USIA monthly and distributed throughout Asia.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, Dobry also has a master's degree in journalism from Columbia University.

The Dobry's have a married daughter living in Taft and a son studying Chinese at Oxford University, England, after graduation from the University of California, Berkeley.

The Nortons plan a vacation and to continue living in Carmel Valley.

Timmins open art and framing shop at Valley Hills Center

An art and framing shop openened last week at Valley Hills Shopping Center with Harry and Lotus Timmins in charge.

It carries a complete line of art material and custom and ready-made frames, some hand carved in Europe, and hope to offer graphics and local art in a gallery annex soon.

The Timmins have been coming here for years to visit family and friends and when Mr. Timmins closed his design and printing company after 18 years in Los Angeles, it was natural that they come here "to settle down.".

Son Kurt is in the Army in Washington D.C. and Harry, Jr. is now a senior at Carmel High.

Mr. Timmon's was born in Chicago and grew up in New York and Connecticut. He was educated at New York Military Academy and the University of Wisconsin.

He says of his background, "I grew up in and around the studios of artists...watching them work, listening to their talk. All my adult life has been involved with art in its commercial or fine art forms.

"My father, Harry L. Timmins was nationally known illustrator and a fine arts painter who lived and exhibited in Carmel in his later years. My sister Verna, wife of the well-known artist Donald Teague, has been A Carmel resident for 20 years and my brother, William, is an artist who moved from Connecticut to Carmel four years ago.

Heroic bus driver

An eye-witness story came our way of a heroic rescue last Friday of two little girls by a local school bus driver. The near-tragedy occured after school on Carmel Valley Road just below Carmel Golf and Country Club.

The two small girls were starting to cross the highway. The school bus was stopped with its red lights flashing, which of course means "Stop," according to law, to all approaching cars. The bus driver fortunately was outside as usual to help the youngsters across the road if necessary.

It was necessary. A "red car with a well-dressed, white-haired man driving" came speeding along. Not slowing down, it bore down on the little girls in the middle of the road.

Mrs. Fred Fisher who with her husband was stopped in their car described what happened: "The car was coming very fast and was nearly upon the little girls when the bus driver grabbed them. He actually made them fly through the air barely in time. It was remarkable -- and wonderful!"

The speeding car, Mrs. Fisher said, not even then slowing, actually went away faster. She couldn't help wondering if its driver were afraid he might have hit the girls. It happened so fast that the Fishers weren't able to take the license number.

In this case, the law-breaking, near-accident driver wasn't some young punk, barreling down the pike for the sport of it. It was an irresponsible adult, who should have known better, and who should have been cited for his dangerous disregard of the law. With miserable examples like that, adults can't too logically shake their fingers at the younger generation for stupid driving.

Carmel School District bus drivers report they often face drivers who ignore the law and their flashing red lights. Theirs is a tremendous responsibility, which they handle well. They deserve a salute of appreciation from all parents. WN

County zoning summary

To help understanding of county zoning, Dr. Ed Marcucci, Carmel Valley's representative on the county planning commission, has suggested that The Outlook publish the county's "short form" of basic zoning districts. Following is the initial installment, each of which it is suggested Valleyites clip and save for further reference in zoning matters:

BASIC ZONING DISTRICTS

"U" DISTRICT

This is an unclassified district which allows most residential and commercial uses. Other uses such as dumping or reduction of garbage, smelting of ores, stock yards, or other uses which may be objectionable by reason of noise, odor, smoke, dust or involving the handling of explosive materials are allowed with a Use Permit. A minimum building site of 2-1/2 acres is required in all unclassified areas unless an interim zone sets up a different building site size or a use permit is granted.

"H" DISTRICT

This is a highway frontage district which uses are deisnged to accommodate the traveling public. The "H-1" District allows single family dwellings and agricultural uses. Certain other uses such as restaurants, service stations and automobile courts are allowed with a use permit.

"F" DISTRICT

This is an exclusive agricultural district which allows all agricultural uses such as crop and tree farming, livestock farming and dairies, and accessory buildings to the agricultural uses. Dwellings are allowed when accessory to the farming of the property. Certain other more commercial agricultural uses such as cattle feed yards, animal sales yards, and commercial hog and turkey farms are allowed with a use permit.

"O" DISTRICT

This is an open space district designed to promote a rural atmosphere in an otherwise urban development. The only uses permitted are crop and tree farming, and grazing of horses and cattle. Other uses such as non-profit recreational uses and golf courses with standard length fairways are allowed with a use permit.

"K" DISTRICT

This is an agricultural-residential district which allows all agricultural uses such as crop and tree farming, livestock farming and animal husbandry, and accessory buildings to the agricultural uses. Dwellings are allowed whether or not the property is being farmed. Certain other more commercial agricultural uses such as riding academies, poultry farms and kennels for dogs and cats are allowed with a use permit.

"ST" DISTRICT

This is a special treatment district designed to allow the "cluster" development to a prescribed density. The "ST" District allows single family dwellings and agricultural uses. Any proposal for "cluster" development must have as a minimum building site five acres and all plans submitted for approval with a use permit.

"T" DISTRICT

This is a transitional district which acts as a holding zone until more detailed land use studies can be made to determine the precise zoning to be placed on the land. The "T" District allows single family dwellings and agricultural uses. Other uses such as those allowed in the "K" District with a use permit are allowed in the "T" District also with a use permit.

"SC" DISTRICT

This is a scenic conservation district designed to protect unusually scenic areas by applying special regulations relating to the design and location of buildings, fences, roads, driveways and terraces; landscaping and removal and deposit of natural materials. The "SC" District allows single family residences and all agricultural uses. Certain other uses such as tourist facilities and clustering of dwellings to the prescribed maximum density are allowed with a use permit.

"N" DISTRICT

This is a rural district which allows single family dwellings and all agricultural uses. Certain other more commercial agricultural uses such as hog or turkey farms, kennels for dogs and cats and public stables are allowed with a use permit.

"R-1" DISTRICT

This is the basic single family residential district which allows single family dwellings, boarding of two persons and the keeping of two cats and/or two dogs. Certain other uses such as art galleries, tract offices and servants quarters are allowed with a use permit.

"R-2" DISTRICT

This is designed to allow duplex residences. Like the "R-1" District single family dwellings boarding of two persons, and the keeping of two cats and/or two dogs are allowed uses. Uses similar to hospitals, rest homes, sanitariums and clinics are allowed with a use permit.

"R-3" DISTRICT

This is a limited multiple family residence district which allows single family residences, duplexes, and the keeping of one cat and/or one dog. Certain other uses such as resort hotels, automobile courts, and rooming and boarding houses are allowed with a use permit.

"R-4" DISTRICT

This is a multiple family residence district which allows single family residences, duplexes, and multiple dwellings. Certain other more commercial residential uses such as hotels, clubs, hospitals and professtional offices are allowed with a use permit.

"C-1" DISTRICT

This is a retail business district which allows retail stores and shops of alight commercial character conducted within a building. Uses such as appliance stores, grocery stores and offices are allowed. Certain other uses such as repair garages, service stations and used car sales are allowed with a use permit. Dwellings whether single family or multiple family are allowed with a use permit.

"PC" DISTRICT

This is the planned commercial district designed to regulate shopping centers. All uses require the approval of a zoning permit. The "PC" District requires plans of the entire development to be submitted for approval as a general development plan before any zoning permits are approved for individual businesses. Landscaping, parking, and general compatability of the development are subject to approval by the Planning Commission.

"C-R" DISTRICT

This is a commercial-recreational district designed to allow uses which operate on or near water frontage areas. Uses which are allowed are boat and motor rentals, launching ramps, docks, piers, marinas, and other services which are of similar character. Tourist and recreational uses such as motels, restaurants, gift shops, excursion and sport fishing boat mooring, marine engine repair and other services to boats and boat owners are those uses allowed with a use permit.

"C-2" DISTRICT

This is a general commercial district which permits those retail commercial uses allowed in a "C-1" District plus some other heavier commercial uses such as carpenter shops, plumbing shops, and tinsmith shops. Certain other commercial uses such as trailer camps, wholesale sales and used car sales are allowed with a use permit. Dwellings whether single family or multiple family are allowed with a use permit.

The Rhyming Philosopher

YULETIDE

Ring out brave Christmas bells, nor be dismayed
Though every force of Hell is loose, intent
On sheer oppression. Nor are we afraid
That Christian faith shall waver or consent
To e'en a moment's giving way to fear.
So now we rally 'round our sacred fount
Of blessed providence, pronouncing clear
That law and order shall be paramount.
For Christmas is a family affair,
Reunion to peacefully rejoice
And pray goodwill for all men everywhere,
So all oppressed shall join in freedom's voice.
Ring out those Christmas bells, ring loud
and true,
Proclaim our age-old faith, and hope renew!

MPMA looks back on a good year; plans another

CURATOR MARY JANE SPENCE can look back on a lively year at MPMA. Perhaps the most popular show for local gallery goers was the 5th annual competition exhibit in October which was won by Ellwood Graham, Robert Nelson and Howard Bradford. Graham will be honored with a one-man show next July. This year S.C. Yuan was so honored, having won the 1967 competition.

PLANS for the early part of the New Year have been made and will include a show of paintings, prints and collages by Lucile Bertrand of Los Angeles in January; and a collection of art and artifacts from the collection of the Christian Brothers of Napa Valley has been set for February.

WINE-MAKING accoutrements, such as antique presses and containers, will be shown at the Pacific Grove Museum at the same time that paintings and art objects, all with the grape as subject matter, will be shown at the MPMA gallery.

ANOTHER HIGHLIGHT for February will be a graphics workshop sponsored by the museum at Carmel Graphics in Sunset Center, Feb. 10,11,13 and 14.

THE DECEMBER SHOW at the Monterey Museum of Art Association Gallery features an exhibit and sale of photographic prints by local and well-known out-of-town photographers.

Carmel PlanCom approves addition to Edgemere Cottages

At a combined meeting of Carmel's Board of Adjustments and Planning Commission, Wednesday Dec. 18., a last ditch attempt to withold the issuance of an amendment to a conditional use permit was narrowly defeated.

Initially, the Board had recommended denial of the request, made by Mr. R.L. Siegrist, of Edgemere Cottages, on San Antonio, on the grounds that the proposed additions and remodelling, consisting of kitchen, dining facilities, and bathroom in each of two units, would change the definition of its use from that of motel to that of apartment. City Council, however, overturned that decision, and handed the case back to the Board for further consideration.

City Attorney William Burleigh said that in all other respects, concerning parking space, and land area, Edgemere fulfilled the required conditions, and that the only remaining point of discussion was whether the alterations would be environmentally unsuitable. Commissioner Ted Fehring considered the remodelling would not be in keeping with the neighborhood, and moved that the amendment be denied because "the character of the neighborhood would be adversely affected." Chairman Fred Keeble felt that the Board could not decree denial on that basis, and Cmsr. Olof Dahlstrand agreed that although the plan could be bettered, it was not really objectionable. The motion for denial, seconded by Cmsr. Dorothy von Meir, was rejected by 4-3 with Keeble, Dahlstrand, Charles McEwen and Dorothea Roberts voting against.

Mrs. Roberts then made a motion to approve the amendment, subject to the Design Review Committee giving final assent regarding details of structure and colour. Seconded by Cmsr. Dahlstrand, this was carried 4-3 with Cmrs. Fehring, Edward Neroda, and von Meier against.

The Commission then discussed various minor amendments-dealing with motel use, frontage variance, uses in the commercial district, and height of buildings in the residential district-comprising of clarification in definition of existing ordinances, and alignment of the Planning and Zoning section of the Municipal Code (the re-written Part X) with the building code section.

Carmel Middle School news briefs

The speech class at Middle School recently presented a choral reading, retelling the famous Christmas story, "A Christmas Carol," by Charles Dickens. The performance was taped, so it could be heared in various classrooms and convalescent hospitals

The role of Ebenezer Scrooge was portrayed by Lawson Robinson, who, according to Mrs. Dresser, speech teacher, was very convincing. Additional participants in the choral reading were Maureen Campbell, Alison Faul, Laura Harris, David Irwin, Larry Lacock, Rima Mazzeo, Olava Menczkowski, William Newman, Derek Poole, Leslie Read, Julie Selander, Chuck Snyder, Tim Tucker, Albertina Zarazua, Lorie Singleton, Rebekah Wilson, Randy and Sally Polson.

A musical skit, "Up a Christmas Tree," to the tune of Jingle Bells" and a serious play, "Good out of Nazareth" were the offerings of Mrs. Dresser's drama class. Characters were Diane Lindsey, Mike Canepa, Jenny Bestor, Beth Brown, Jay Chalkley and Buzz Cole.

The "good" out of Nazareth was, of course, the reason we celebrate Christmas. The setting for this one-act play was the day of Christ's birth, in the yard of the inn at Bethlehem. Those who participated were Adrienne Christian, Bob Dimitrijevich, John Gardner, Kelly Goulding, Robin Hatton, Lorie Singleton, Rhys Weston, Jay Chalkley, Debbie Neth, Marina Curtis, and Ron Bennett.

The Drama Class has been very busy, with holiday plays. Before the Thanksgiving holiday, they presented a short play, "Thanksgiving at Miner's Gap," which took place in West Virginia

The players presented the play to several classrooms. Those in the cast were Lori Singleton, Diane Lindsey, Debbie Neth, Marina Curtis, Mike Canepa, Jay Chalkley, and Bob Dimitrijevich. John Gardner was the student director.

Fulton Freeman to head Monterey Institute

Fulton Freeman, U.S. Ambassador to Mexico and one of the Country's leading carrer diplomats will be the new president of the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies, according to a joint announcement by Ambassador Freeman in Mexico City and the Institute in Monterey. Ambassador Freeman will terminate his present duties some time in January after 30 years in Foreign service.

Ambassador and Mrs. Freeman will make their home in Carmel Valley. Formal installation ceremonies will be held at the Institute in February.

Born in Pasadena, educated at Lingnan University, Pomona College and Princeton, Freeman entered foreign service in March 1939. After serving as Vice Consul in Mexico in 1939, he was sent to Peiping as language officer and was interned by the Japanese in December 1941. After his release in June 1942, he spent the remaining war years in the Consular Service in Chungking, rising to the rank of Consul in 1946, and in 1948, he was made Assistant Chief of the State Department's Division of Chinese Affairs.

Ambassador Freeman served in the American Embassy in Rome from 1951 to 1955, and from 1955 to 1957 was director of Politico-Military Affairs, Headquarters Supreme Allied Commander Atlantic, in Norfolk, Virginia. He was senior Foreign Service Inspector from 1957 to 1958, then Deputy Chief of Mission in Brussels, 1958-1961. From 1961 to 1964 he was U.S. Ambassador to Colombia and has been Ambassador to Mexico since 1964.

They caroled at the C.V. Youth Center Christmas tree lot Dec. 19th.

MUSIC DIRECTOR John Farr

Young Tularcitos musicians spread Christmas cheer

Musicians from Tularcitos school have been singing and playing to spread Christmas cheer up and down the Valley and all over town.

They have performed for the CV Trail and Saddle Club Christmas party, the women of the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula, the Tularcitos parents Christmas program for Carmel Town House members (at a luncheon sponsored by C.V. Kiwanis), for their own school Christmas assembly and for the C.V. Kiwanis Club Christmas sing Tuesday noon at Rippling River.

These busy young people are led by John Farr, who came back to teaching this year after three years of co-ordinating elementary school music for the District. Before that he was music teacher at Carmel High School.

A graduate of the College of the Pacific at Stockton (now the University of the Pacific), he has also taught music in Salinas and Brentwood school.

OAKS & CACTI

By MILDRED HATTON 659-2468

FIRST GRAND CHILD

A teddy bear and a drum was added to the Jolly Old Elf's pack by the Valley's newest (and certainly proudest) first time grandparents, Jean and Don McKenzie. Master Christopher Charles Hoover arrived December 3 at the Stanford Palo Alto Hospital weighing 8# 14 oz. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. David Hoover of Mountain View. Jean left her busy Christmas preparations on Ring Lane for a week to assist Susan with little Christopher. A guest there now is his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Charles Hoover of Phoenix, Arizona. His arrival is an addition to the list of great grandchildren for Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKenzie Sr. of Robles Del Rio.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Tara Speiser celebrated her third birthday last Saturday with a birthday luncheon at the West Carmel Valley Road home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zane Speiser. The children enjoyed feeding and playing with the goats pastured on the Speiser property. Each child was presented an animal bean bag as a favor, made from scraps of the material from which Tara's lovely new robe was fashioned by her mother. Members of the sandbox set attending and their mothers were; Mrs. Richard Radowicz and Tanya, Mrs. Patricia De Amaral and Gwyn Pat, Mrs. Sharon Weiss and Elizabeth and Danny, and Tara's brother, Sabin. Her sister, Tegan assisted during the afternoon.

MRS. KING IS BACK

Mrs. Carrie King of Elgona, Iowa was welcomed by family and friends when she arrived in the Valley last week to take up her annual winter residency on Paso Hondo with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer and children Peggy, Dena, and Rickey.

POLDENS ENTERTAIN

Lt. Col. (ret.) and Mrs. Donald Polden of 12 Glen Place in Rancho Canada hosted the annual Christmas party of the Seaside Elementary faculty members and their guests last Saturday night. Guests attending enjoyed cocktails, hors d' oeurves and touring the Polden's new home.

SEVENTH BIRTHDAY

A sign which read "Happy Birthday Stephen" greeted the seven year old guest of honor and members of his party when they arrived at the Community Center Saturday for a luncheon and movie planned by the C.V. Youth Organization. Following a menu of hot dogs, soft drinks, corn on the cob and beans, the children enjoyed a performance of "Gentle Ben."

Assisting Stephen's mother Jo Ann were Mrs. George Glendenning and Tomi France. Gifts were opened from Frank Collas, Garth Frazer, Kevin Washington, Darvin Espinosa, Randy, Engle, Daivd Busick, Scott Gibson, Jeff Harber, Jeff Mink and Rick Kashfi.

JACKSON'S TO SAN DIEGO

Lt. Warren Jackson and infant son, Randy, said goodbyes last week to their many Valley and Peninsula friends before leaving for San Diego where Warren has been assigned as Personel and Administration Officer at the Naval Training Station. Yuvawn and Warren have been active in the Cabrillo Doberman Club. They have sold their home on Lower Circle to Mrs. Ruth Fike who recently sold her home on Del Rio Road.

JEANNINE'S BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bottaro of Village Drive drove 100 years into the past when they took a recent holiday via auto. Tom who had planned every minute detail as a surprise for Jeannine's birthday would not disclose their destination as he drove into the "Gold Country" thru the town of Jackson to a little hamlet named "Volcano" said to have been settled during the "Rush" by gold seekers from Monterey.

Tom brought their car to a stop in front of a three story hotel (The St. George, which is over 100 years old) ushered Jeannine thru a lobby steeped in antiquity and into the bar where former Valleyites, Connie and Jack Daes, very much a part of the surprise, were awaiting their arrival. (The Daes are now stationed at Mather Air Force Base. Seated around an old fashioned table in a dining room decorated for the holidays with holly and candles just as it might have been 100 years ago, Jeannine was presented with a birthday cake from the hotel staff topped with a bottle of champagne ordered by another Valleyite who frequents Volcano, Will Fay.

ORTMANS TO VIRGINIA

Another Navy family enroute to their new station are Cmdr. and Mrs. Dean Ortman who with sons, Michael, Stephen, and Daryl have made their home on El Caminito. Dean graduated Wednesday from the Naval Post Graduate School. Following three weeks of additional training in New Jersey and Philadelphia he will be stationed in Norfolk, Virginia. They were planning to drive as far as Kansas where they will spend the holidays with the families of both Sandi and Dean.

HOLIDAY GUEST

Arriving on Sunday from New Hampshire was Mrs. Edith Shea who will spend the holidays with her daughter and family, Mrs. and Mrs. Donald Draper, Don Jr., Murray, Kathy, Peggy, Stephen, and Dorie Lee

Gordon Harlander new board president

Many adults pitch in for CV Youth Center

CV Youth Center members have many grown-ups to thank for the success of their Christmas tree lot and candle sales operation.

Their neighbors, Irene Baldwin of Carmel Valley Realty and Don McKenzie of the Grapevine have supplied them with rest rooms; and electricity. Mel Traveres has kept the butane tanks of their two trailers filled and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Black have loaned them a night watchman's trailer.

Mrs. Bobbie Glendenning who has manned the Dine-a-mite trailer which dispences hot refreshments and sells mistletoe and candles practically single handed until Mrs. Mel Tavares volunteered her help. When vacation started youth members took over completely.

Mrs. Glendenning especially cited three pre-teen boys as being a great help at the lot as well as gathering mistletoe. They are Carl Black, Bob May and Brad France. Mr. Charlie Gansel is chairman in charge of the lot.

Gordon Harlander is the Community Center's new president. He took office on the resignation of Captain George Clifford who is now president elect of the Kiwanis Club of Carmel Valley.

Holiday dance at CV Youth Center

There will be a Record-hop dance for you kids who are interested in becoming members of this youth center. If you are between the ages of 12-14 you are welcome to come.

We need you, to continue the youth center that we have worked so hard to start and have brought to its now existence.

If you have any questions at all, do come to our youth center for the Record-hop Monday, Dec. 30 from 8:00-10:30.

This dance is semi-formal.

Bill Greenwall, disc-jockey for K.M.B.Y. will be our host.

50¢ per person.

'Roar of the Greasepaint'

Circle's new musical has cast of 20 dancing, singing actors

A cast of 20 actors, singers and dancers tell a challenging story of the "haves" and "have nots" in "The Roar of the Greasepaint...the Smell of the Crowd" which will have its premiere in this area at the Circle Theatre, Saturday, Dec. 28.

Director Zelma (Mrs. Allan) Weinfield has gathered a group of experienced young people together for the production.

The role of "Sir" will be played by Milton Hayes, Rodney Allison will appear as "Cocky;" Leslye Weinfield has the role of "The Kid" and "The Girl" will be played by Suzann Newell.

Dale Diggs will play "The Negro," Timothy Gleason, "The Bully," and the six "Urchins" will include Akemi Ito, Renee Wurzmann, Barbara Brusell, Kathy Westmorland, and Barbara Jamison and Melissa Hellman.

LOU'S 'CASA' OPENING SAT.

Expanded Menu, New Hours, 'Cantina' Lounge To Be Unveiled after Vacations

After a month's vacation, Lou's Casa Carmela restaurant in Carmel Valley Village will reopen Saturday night.

New entree items include Porterhouse Steak for two, Petite Filet Sirloin, marinated Sirloin Tips, Swordfish Steak and a unique Chicken dish, Chicken Capriccio. The old Continental-Italian favorites, led by the authentic and very popular Cannelloni, remain on the menu.

Dinner will be served from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. every night except Sunday.

The restaurant's cocktail lounge has been greatly revamped into a plushier, more intimate Cantina. Lounge hours will remain from 5 p.m. to midnight (except Sundays).

Lou's will begin its third year in Carmel Valley in January with recognition from Mobile Travel Guide for its Continental-Italian cuisine. Tom Bottaro is host and manager.

SUNDAY HOURS WILL BE FROM 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Lou's will be open New Year's Eve, although Tuesdays are normally dark.

'Los Romeros' to open Hidden Valley concerts

'Los Romeros', Four exponents of the virtuoso guitar will open the two evening programme at the Sunset Auditorium this week-end, Dec. 28 & 29.

The concerts, given for the benefit of the Hidden Valley Music Seminars, offer an exciting variety of musical fare; from A Bach piano concerto, to a choral work by Beethoven and improvisations on the traditional forms of the flamenco.

Saturday evening will be devoted mainly to the Romeros: a first half recital which customarily features the father of this musical dynasty, Celedonio, playing a group of short Baroque dance pieces; with eldest son Celin performing selections by Villa-Lobos, and Pepe specializing the volatile styles of the flamenco.

The second part will introduce Dr. Michael Zearott of the Atlanta Symphony as piano soloist in Bach's Piano Concerto in D minor. He will be accompanied by Hidden Valley's own alumni orchestra, under the baton of Angel Romero. Angel will then be joined by brother Pepe in a concerto for two guitars by Vivaldi and the concert wil close with the 'Concierto de Aranquez' by Joaquin Rodrigo, with Celin Romero and the orchestra under Dr. Zearott.

Appearing at the Sunday night concert will be guest artists Stanley Plummer (violin), Marie Gibson (soprano), and Thomas Paul (bass). They will perform together in Bach's 'Wachet Auf', with the Hidden Valley orchestra and chorale, John Waddell of the Pasadena Symphony conducting. The The popular 'Egmont Overture' of Beethoven will close the first half.

John Waddell and the chorale will then venture into the music of the Spanish renaissance and Mr. Plummer will solo in Ravel's, 'Tzigane'. The entire musical cast will finale with Beethoven's 'Choral Fantasy' with Dr. Zearott as both pianist and conductor and Mr. Paul and Miss Gibson as soloists.

Seats may be reserved at the Central Box Office, 624-6739, or from Hidden Valley, Box 942, Pebble Beach.

4 CV Co-op Gallery Artists in Show

All four of the artists of the Co-op Gallery in Carmel Valley Village are being honored with a show at the new Seaside City Hall during January.

Forty paintings will be hung, ten by each artist: Stan Spohn and Bernice Huber of Carmel and Jean Hofsas and Lucile Herbert of Carmel Valley.

The Co-op has reported great success with their Sunday outdoor shows "on the fence by the Madonna". They have installed an outdoor stove and benches and serve hot mulled cider to all who wish to stop and admire the paintings.

Padre cagers lose in annual jamboree

Carmel High varsity, hosting its annual Carmel Varsity Jamboree, Friday and Saturday, went down in tough battles.

The Padres lost the consolation contest Saturday 63-55 to Livermore, in spite of the high scoring of Chris Liaolo with 14 points and Bruce Winkler's 19.

In the preliminary competition Friday, Buchser High of Santa Clara edged Carmel 55-50. Winkler again led Padre scoring with 27, with Mark Spindler next with nine.

Victor of the Jamboree was Encina of Sacramento, which downed Buchser 73-66.

Carmel hosts Palma Friday, freshmen at 4:30, JVs at 6:30 and varsity at 8.

York takes All Saints in soccer 2—0

By Doug Thompson

Led by Tom Ryu and Jeff Green (an All Saints' Alumnus), York defeated All Saints' Day School 2-0 in soccer at York Tuesday. Ryu and Green made the goals for York.

Coaches were Mr. Nicholas Sturch of York who was also referee and Mr. William Godwin for All Saints'. The Captain for All Saints' was Charles Farish.

SPORTS

Carmel winds up 1st water polo season

Carmel High has just wound up its first season of water polo, earning a "very pleased" comment from Coach Jim Agan.

The Padre varsity won only 1 out of 6 games. "But this is not disturbing at all," said Agan, "for it was a brand new team to the sport, and they got progressively better as the season went on."

The Carmel junior varsity won 5 and lost only 1 game. "They were playing closer to their level of experience," Coach Agan explained. They lost the first game of the season, and won all the rest.

"The teams are looking forward to next year," he declared, "because there are only two seniors among the 28 boys who have been out for water polo."

The coach emphasized that there have been no particular standout players, for there was excellent team effort. "There haven't been any exceptionally high scorers," he added. Scoring has been well spread out."

As an example, five boys made the eight goals in the last JV contest with Robert Louis Stevenson School.

As for the varsity, Coach Agan pointed out that the team improved impressively as the season continued. For instance, in a recent game with a Watsonville Recreation team, which included four Cabrillo College players, Carmel lost by a respectable 6-10.

Monday last week, Carmel lost by 13 points to RLS, but in an earlier game the Padres had lost by 20 points.

"I'm really very pleased with the season," Agan said. "The boys made great progress."

St. Dunstans will observe Twelfth Night with bonfire

The traditional "Twelfth Night" feast of Lights Service and Christmas tree bonfire will be held at St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church on Sunday evening, January 5th, at 7:00 p.m.: at the Church on Robinson Canyon Road behind the Farm Center.

The candlelight service which commemorates the Feast of Epiphany will include the lighting of the Twelve Candles by members of the Youth Group to signify the spread of the light of Christ's truth to the Apostles and then to the rest of the world. At the end of the service the members of the congregation will each receive a lighted candle to be taken home.

Following the service the "Twelfth Night" bonfire will take place on the Church property at which time the trees brought by the members of the congregation will be set on fire.

This tradition has come to the American Church from the Church of England, where the "Twelfth Night" festival began. After the bonfire, the congregation will assemble in the Church School Building for coffee, punch and Ephiphany cake and to listen to the folk songs performed by the Youth Group. The public is invited to share the festivities.

There will be only two services at St. Dunstan's Church Sunday, December 29: one at 8:00 a.m. and one at 10:30 a.m. There will be no Sunday School on that day.

CLUBS

CV Lionettes

A Christmas mobile on the door greeted guests who arrived at the Aliso Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bordonaro Saturday evening for the annual holiday champagne punch party sponsored by the Carmel Valley Lionettes.

Assisting Virginia with plans for dinner of roast turkey, ham, pumpkin pie and all the trimmings which followed the cocktail party were Messrs. and Mmes. Clifford Bolgard, Sam Corona, Leroy Defur, Ed Eagling, Peter Glod, John Koon, Nick Skalyo, Phil Wright, Al Koinigsleib, William Stowers, Jack Darch, and Mal Tavares.

Staff Wives

More than eighty ladies made reservations for the December meeting of the Naval Postgraduate School Staff Wives Club when it was announced that plans had been made for a special performance in their honor of "Alice in Wonderland" by the company of Geddis and Martin at the Tantamount Theatre.

Cookies baked by the ladies and coffee was served following the performance. The hostesses were Mrs. William Tolles, Mrs. Paul Ecker, Mrs. G.F. Kinney and Mrs. J. Duffin.

Suicide Center ready to help

"Unhappiness and seemingly hopeless difficulties of despondent persons are usually accentuated during the holiday season---but there is a ready answer," according to Mrs. Betty Corr, newly appointed director of the Monterey County Suicide Prevention Center.

"These problems," Mrs. Corr stresses, "can be relieved by the sympathetic listening and counseling of the center's trained staff.

"When life no longer seems worth living and you can't make a decision, give the center a chance to help.

"All you have to do is dial 624-1415---at any time of day or night."

John G. Oldfin gets promotion

John G. Oldfin has been named assistant vice president and manager of Crocker-Citizens National Bank's Pebble Beach office. He had served in the same capacity at the bank's Santa Rosa office since December, 1966.

Born in Canada, Oldfin was graduated from the University of British Columbia, received an associate's degree in banking from Queens University and began his career at the Bank of Montreal in Vancouver.

He lives with his wife and daughter at 136 Carmel Knolls.
